

Claim

Learning and memorizing Bible verses and the christian ethics are so vital to the believer's maturity that a tool such as Seriously Funny (SF) is overdue. After years of deep thinking I come up with this game which will make believers of all age roar with laughter while playing with Bible verses which some will discover for the first time, others will review, but all will master painlessly and memorize simply by having fun playing with these cards. None other has ever come up with a so serious and yet so fun to use method. Therefore, I claim it as my invention, and I call it “ Seriously Funny” (SF).

Because learning the Bible is the reason for the card, but even in doing so people will have so much fun. I am pleased to have made a tool such as “Seriously Funny” available to Believers of the Bible..

Roc E. Celiant